Help CAE and RES Candidates Succeed

IAAO's CAE designation is a mark of distinction that aids your career, informs your daily work and elevates your profession. If you have the CAE, you can also assist current CAE and RES candidates in demonstrating their aptitude, earning that mark for themselves.

IAAO is currently seeking demonstration appraisal report graders. Graders use their knowledge and experience to constructively critique candidates' reports, helping candidates advance in our profession.

Training and support is provided. Graders are compensated for each report completed. If you are interested, please contact Jarron Paronto, Designation Program Manager.

Chapter and Affiliate Spotlight

In order to increase awareness about the Chapters and Affiliates that are so important to the success of IAAO, the next several issues will include links to information about some of IAAO's Chapters and Affiliates.
